11:20 h – 12:00 h Workshop session Round 1:

How are the members of your Alliances working jointly to train the researchers of the future and improve the appeal and conditions of researchers' careers? How is the mobility of researchers promoted and how is talent retention pursued? How are your Alliances establishing joint R&I programmes or facilitating the development of joint R&I projects?

- 🌐 EELISA (Isabel Salgueiro, Universidad Politécnica de Madrid, Project Manager and Simona Gallerani, WP5 Leader, Associate Professor of Astronomy and Astrophysics at the Scuola Normale Superiore - EELISA and INNOCORE);
- 🌐 CIVIS (Julie Hyzewicz, RIS4CIVIS project manager);
- 🌐 FORTHEM (Dr. Nicole Birkle, FORTHEM General Secretary and FIT FORTHEM Managing Coordinator).

12:00 h – 12:40 h Workshop session Round 2:

The concept of European Universities is based on community engagement and societal impact. The Alliances are expected to 'also contribute to the sustainable economic development of the regions where they are located, as their students will work closely with companies, municipal authorities, academics, and researchers to find solutions to the challenges their regions are facing,' according to the statement (European Commission, 2019).

How do you cooperate to foster collaboration with stakeholders in the surrounding ecosystems of your Universities? Which results do you observe from these activities? How do you measure the impact of these activities?

- 🌐 ERUA (Claire Douet, RE-ERUA Project Manager, Université Paris 8);
- 🌐 YUFE (Maria José Herrero Villa, Head of International Unit for Research and Knowledge Transfer, Universidad Carlos Terceros de Madrid).

12:40 h – 13:00 h Group Picture & Conclusions
